

JV Boys Play in Almena

By Judy Rogers

The Golden Plains JV Boys basketball team played the Northern Valley Huskies in Almena on December 20. The boys dug out of a deep first half hole to fall to the Huskies 38-51.

The Huskies controlled the first quarter with only two shots from sophomores Alex Gonzalez and Jovanny Infante as the Bulldogs fell behind 4-13. The slump continued in the second with Infante making two more baskets allowing the Huskies to pull ahead 32-8 by the half.

The Dogs picked up the pace and played with a little more fire in the second half as they added ten but were still trailing 18-45 at the end of the third. Not giving up, they lit up the boards in the fourth to add another 20 holding the Huskies to 6 to end the game 38-51 with a Husky win.

“We played better in the second half,” said Toby Korte. “If we keep hustling and working together as a team, we will get more wins.” Points from the Bulldogs included Alex Gonzalez 8, Jovanny Infante 10, Rojelio Loya 4, Roberto Loya 4, Ashton Schiltz 4, Mason Green 2, Fabian Cepeda 2, Toby Korte 2, and Ethan Weiner 2.

The JV boys continue their season on January 7 with a half game in Stockton.
