The Golden Plains JV Volleyball team started their season with games against Ness City Eagles and the Logan Trojans at Brewster on September 1. They split games with a win over Ness City and a loss to Logan.

Their first game was against the Ness City Eagles. The game was close but the Bulldogs got the lead winning the first set 25-20. They continued working hard and pulled ahead early in the second set and kept the lead for the win 25-14. "It was fun playing my first high school game even though it is more intense than playing in middle school," said Jordyn Fleckenstein. "We need to work on communicating and continue to play hard to have a successful season."

The second game was against the Logan Trojans. The game stayed close but the Bulldogs couldn't get the win losing the first set 24-26. "We needed to work on our talking to pull out a win in the second set," says Mia Rogers. They started the second set out strong keeping it close through the whole game. But they couldn't get a win in the second set losing 23-25. "We played well together and improved but just couldn't get a win in this game," added Rogers.

The Bulldogs will travel to Greeley County September 8. "We are looking forward to getting another win," says Fleckenstein.
