

Bulldogs Just Misses Chance at State

By Ava Brantley

The Golden Plains High School Scholars' Bowl team traveled to Ransom for the Regional Scholars' Bowl on Thursday, February 1. The team placed 4th barely missing out on the chance to go to state since they only take the top 3 teams. Members that participated in this meet were seniors Jordyn Fleckenstein and Emma Weiner, Juniors Wyatt Amlong and Dominic Stout, and Sophomores Tanner Black and Dylan Wark.

The Bulldogs started the tournament with a win against Wheatland (30-5). The next rounds were just as successful with wins against Triplains (30-10), Dighton (30-15), and Deerfield (20-10). In round five the Bulldogs took a tough loss to Palco (50-60). In the last round, the Bulldogs came out with a (40-10) win against Rolla.

The Bulldogs make it into pool play with a 5-1 record. They start their first round with a win against Wheatland. The next two rounds came out with losses to Wallace (20-40) and Ingalls (10-30). The Bulldogs finished the day with has a win against Dighton (40-20), but a tough loss to Western Plains (10-30) to place 4th, just missing out on qualifying for the state meet.

The team had placed first at Cheylin early in the season, third at Wallace County, and was the WKLL league runner-up this season. Seniors Jordyn Fleckenstein and Emma Weiner have been a part of the Scholars' Bowl team all four years of high school. "I enjoyed participating in Scholars Bowl all four years," said Weiner. "I always had fun going to meets with the team." "The last four years were fun and we made some really good memories," added Fleckenstein. "There was never a dull moment."